at U. of Cincinnati, 18 Feb 76

1. On 18 February, the channel 12 11 p.m. news lead its story on the Ford reorganization of intelligence with this line (approximately):

"President Ford announced further details of his plan to reorganize U.S. foreign intelligence functions. Today, at the University of Cincinnati a [REDACTED] said that the Ford recommendations meant that someone would be accountable for covert action."

2. The 19 February Washington Star ran a picture with caption in its early edition.

3. Other clippings from the Cincinnati press may come in from the program organizer, Chad Solomon.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Academic Relations Officers

SUBJECT: Acceptance of Payments for Transportation and Lodging
Expenses by CIA Analysts
Who Are Guest Speakers

1. Several times during the past year, DDI analysts have been asked to appear at their Alma Maters as guest speakers at some kind of alumni function. Usually it has been to talk to senior and graduate students about employment opportunities in a specific professional field or with government in general. The sponsoring group has often offered to pay the expenses of the CIA guest.

2. On 20 January, [REDACTED] of OGCR, received such an invitation from Carleton College. To help clarify the legality of accepting reimbursement, [REDACTED] asked the Office of General Counsel for an opinion. I have attached the response, and ask that you bring it to the attention of your office heads and administrative staffs.

3. Even though such a speaking engagement, with reimbursement from the sponsors, may be undertaken only while in leave status, the procedure to request permission to speak should still be followed. This will alert all concerned Agency offices to the possibility of press replay.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

Mr. [REDACTED]

SUBJECT

Acceptance of Payment for Transportation and Lodgings Expenses

1. This is to confirm oral advice given you regarding acceptance of payment for transportation and lodgings from an educational institution. You have explained that, as an alumnus of Carleton College, Minnesota, you have been invited to speak on the subject, "How a 'B.A.' or 'B.S.' Graduate Gets a Job." This topic is unrelated to your Agency duties, you will attend while on annual leave, and will receive no expenses from the Government for this trip.

2. The applicable principles of law are found in:

a. 18 U.S.C. 209 which provides that a U.S. Government employee may not receive additional or supplemental compensation, such as salary or anything of monetary value, from a private source as pay for his services to the Government, and

b. E.O. 11222, 8 May 1965, which provides that an employee may not engage in outside employment or other outside activities -- including acceptance of pay or payment of expenses which might result in, or create the appearance of, conflict of interest.

3. No violation of these provisions would occur if you are reimbursed by the College for your transportation and lodgings expenses provided that the trip is taken while you are on annual leave and you receive no compensation from the Government.

STATINTL

I wrote to you some time ago about the possibility of your taking part in a Departmental Advisory Committee which would meet, sometime in the Spring term, with students to dispense experience, advice, wisdom, etc., on the process of looking for, obtaining and holding a job. I now have a budget of $800 to pay travel expenses of the participants. This inadequate amount has permitted me to choose wisely and broadly among the potential participants.

Could you come to Carleton on Friday, May 7? We would pick you up at the airport, settle you in rooms at Carleton, have a late afternoon meeting with students, send you off with quizzical students for supper, have an evening meeting, then have a coffee - cocktail session, bed you in your rooms, and finally, deliver you the next day to your plane.

When I have received a letter from you agreeing to come, I shall by return mail send a possible format for the sessions and also details on housing, etc. At the same time I shall send you an open airline ticket from our local travel agency. "Open" means you will have to call your local travel agency and make a reservation. Your arrival time in Minneapolis will be a piece of information I will need. Incidental expenses could be billed to us at the end of the sessions for repayment by check to your home.

Any ideas on format or approaches that you might prefer would be welcome. I suspect we shall all have some fun out of the occasion.

My best wishes.

Sincerely yours,
